

Privacy Policy – SkillStreet

Last Updated: 6/04/2026

SkillStreet values your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal information. This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, and safeguard information when you use the SkillStreet platform.

SkillStreet may collect personal information such as your name, email address, phone number, education details, skills, and profile information when you register or interact with the platform. Startups using the platform may also provide company details and problem statements related to their challenges.

The information collected is used to operate and improve the platform, enable interactions between students and startups, match users with relevant opportunities, provide support services, and ensure the security and functionality of the website.

SkillStreet does not sell personal information. However, user profiles and submitted solutions may be shared with startups when students participate in challenges. We may also use trusted thirdparty services such as hosting providers, analytics tools, and payment processors to operate the platform.

Reasonable technical and organizational measures are implemented to protect user information. However, SkillStreet cannot guarantee complete security of information transmitted over the internet.

Users may request access, correction, or deletion of their personal data where applicable. SkillStreet reserves the right to update this Privacy Policy at any time, and continued use of the platform indicates acceptance of the updated policy.

These Terms and Conditions govern the use of the SkillStreet platform. By accessing or using the platform, users agree to comply with these terms.

SkillStreet provides a digital platform where startups can publish real business challenges and students can attempt to solve them in order to gain practical experience and skill-based opportunities. SkillStreet does not guarantee internships, employment, or selection in any challenge.

Users are responsible for maintaining accurate account information and protecting their login credentials. SkillStreet reserves the right to suspend or terminate accounts that violate platform policies or engage in misuse of the service.

Students submitting solutions confirm that their work is original and does not violate any intellectual property rights. Startups posting challenges must ensure that their problem statements comply with applicable laws and do not contain confidential or unlawful material.

Any stipend or payment offered for challenges is the responsibility of the startup offering the opportunity. SkillStreet may charge a service fee or commission for facilitating connections through the platform.

All website content, design, branding, and technology belong to SkillStreet and may not be copied or distributed without permission.

SkillStreet acts only as an intermediary between students and startups and is not responsible for outcomes, disputes, or decisions made by either party.

These Terms are governed by the laws of India, and any disputes shall be subject to the jurisdiction of courts in Delhi.

For questions regarding these Terms, contact:

Support.skillstreet@gmail.com